THE BENEFITS OF MIGRATING YOUR COMPANY TO OFFICE 365

The Benefits of Migrating Your Company to Office 365

How many times have you been heading home from work, and as you're driving, you realize that you forgot to add an important point to the document you were working on? Or, how many times has your productivity been stalled because you've had to wait on an application to update? Both situations can get frustrating, making you wish there was a more efficient way to do things. Microsoft's Office 365 offers businesses just that.

Office 365 isn't the same as Microsoft Office. Office 365 is a cloud-based service that allows businesses to purchase a subscription plan and receive access to a variety of ready-to-use, known business applications. These apps (discussed below) will transform your work environment into the most efficient and productive version it has ever been. Considering that one out of every five corporate employees in nearly every enterprise uses an Office 365 cloud service, this service is definitely one to seriously consider when looking for solutions to bring your business to the next, competitive level.

Cloud Computing

There are many benefits that come with cloud computing such as flexibility, security, convenience, and increased collaboration. When you work from and store your data in the Cloud rather than on on-premise storage servers, it allows you to access your data from anywhere in the world as long as you have a web-enabled device, an internet connection, and the right credentials. With this extreme flexibility, business owners can enable their employees to work from home every once in awhile, which has been proven to increase productivity and happiness. This convenience can also allow workers to get ahead on their work during the holidays if they choose to, which is always a plus.

Cloud storage also automatically saves your data and gives you an additional backup/business continuity plan in case anything were to ever happen to your physical office location. For example, if all your computers and on-site servers were destroyed or stolen, your data would still be safe and accessible from alternate devices, keeping your business alive and running in the face of disaster.

And, if security is a worry, it shouldn't be. Cloud data storage has some of the highest security out there. In fact, security is no longer the top challenge for the cloud, which should put any business owner's mind at ease.

Wide Range of Applications

As mentioned, Office 365 offers a variety of applications. You may already be familiar with most of them, such as Word, Excel, PowerPoint, OneNote, Outlook, Publisher, and Access. With an Office 365 plan, your business will also have access to the latest desktop versions of these applications, which can be installed across multiple computers and devices. These applications also allow multiple employees to log in and work on the same file to make real-time updates, driving a true collaborative experience.

Office 365 has become the most popular enterprise Cloud app, having of large businesses with more than 4,000 employees running only Office 365.

Automatic Update

A huge perk of cloud computing applications is that they automatically update. With Office 365, you will always have the most up-to-date version of the applications, saving you the time and hassle of upgrading them yourself.

Affordable Pricing

Probably the biggest benefit of all, Office 365 is very, very affordable. You can get it for as low as $9.99 a month! With all of these benefits in mind, it's no wonder that Office 365 has become the most popular enterprise Cloud app, overtaking apps like Dropbox and Google Apps, and having 74% of large businesses with more than 4,000 employees running only Office 365.
